PINK SHIRT DAY

Chartwell students we are Mindful, Resilient and Kind. As a school we honoured Pink shirt Day by wear pink and engaging in age appropriate activities. The book read by all classrooms is “Just Kidding” by Judy Ludwig. Click the link if you are interested in listening to the book. This book helps us understand how two simple words can be very hurtful and unkind. In the story the main character learns how to progress from feeling helpless to taking positive action. Discussion questions and activities for families to explore at home can be found here.

Chartwell Spotlight on Learning

Grade 4 & 5 Significant Canadian Project

Our Grade 4 and 5 students have been exploring personal, Chartwell, and Canadian identities. During their recent inquiry, they have chosen notable Canadians in various fields, such as athletes, heroes, explorers, artists, musicians, politicians, philanthropists, and leaders in science or business, to present their contributions to Canada's identity. On February 20th, a small group of students presented to the West Vancouver School Board about their learning journey. A celebration of learning is scheduled for March 14th.
