A Message from the Principal

A Reminder About Punctuality = Being On Time

This week as we close out January, I want to emphasize the importance of arriving at school on time each day. We are still observing a number of late student arrivals. We need to reverse this trend.

Arriving promptly helps your child settle into their morning routine, connect with classmates, and engage fully from the start of instruction. Late arrivals can disrupt this flow and impact your child's learning experience.

At the end of the month, I will be reaching out to families whose children have had multiple late arrivals to discuss how we can work together to support better attendance patterns.

Strong routines and consistent planning at home make a significant difference in helping children arrive prepared and ready to learn each day. We recognize that every family faces unique circumstances, and if your family is experiencing challenges with morning routines or punctuality, please don't hesitate to reach out to me personally. We're here to support you and want to problem solve together.

Thank you for your partnership in creating the best possible learning environment for our students.
