Isaac P. spent time with the University of New Brunswick admissions officer when he was here at the school at lunch last Wednesday. These reps come in to meet with the students but few take the time to talk to the reps. The schedule of these visits are all in the post-secondary calendar that students are encouraged to use. When Isaac took the time to meet with the UNB representative he was entered into a draw. The UNB rep met with many students in different schools all over the lower mainland this past week and when he drew a name from the people he had talked to, Isaac's name was drawn. He won all kinds of gifts in a backpack including; a $100 visa gift certificate, a $25.00 Starbucks gift certificate, a lululemon bag, and a bunch of UNB gear. Not only useful information about potential future schools, but some great incentives at the same time!
