

THE WORLD IS YOURS FOR THE MAKING

Great ideas can change everything, and as a future entrepreneur, you want to create innovative and socially responsible business solutions for a more sustainable world.

Creative and resourceful Grade 12 students can gain an educational edge, thanks to a partnership between SFU Beedie School of Business, the Charles Chang Institute for Entrepreneurship, and Young Entrepreneur Leadership Launchpad (YELL) Canada.

SFU

BEEDIE
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Combine your talents and interests with real-world experiences to meaningfully impact your undergraduate education and future goals. Not going into business? You're still part of the community. As a YELL graduate, you can apply for SFU credits when entering any SFU faculty.

You will immediately become part of the Charles Chang Certificate in Innovation and Entrepreneurship: Canada's only university entrepreneurship program delivered collaboratively by, and for, all faculties. It's your first post-secondary step on the path to entrepreneurship and into the welcoming and exciting SFU student entrepreneur community.

As a Chang Certificate student, you will:

- Dive into real local and global challenges with experts in innovation and entrepreneurship, technology and social change, and more!
- Choose your own adventure by combining complementary courses within business and beyond, including classes focused on design, sustainability, health and product development.
- Learn with leaders, mentors and change agents who will share their experience and insights regarding solving the challenges of today and tomorrow.
- Work with other students from all disciplines to create real solutions to complex challenges.
- Launch your own self-driven team project in the real world with real partners, real funding and actual outcomes.

Keep developing your YELL entrepreneurial mindset and journey in the Charles Chang Certificate in Innovation and Entrepreneurship at SFU!
